Draw a portrait of her and write the things you find out about her around the picture.</li> <li>● What is a fossil? Find out what an ammonite is and make one out of play dough, clay or plastecene or make a picture of one (Go to the above link, KS1 geography, William Whiskerson fossil hunting along the Jurassic Coast).</li> <li>● Imagine your own dinosaur, write down lots of information about it - what is it called? Where does it live? How does it move? Draw or paint a picture of it.</li> </ul>

	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>● Make a junk model of your favourite dinosaur, add as much detail as you can.</li> <li>● Make a picture to show the habitat that a dinosaur might have lived in, include these physical features and label each one: forest, river, lake, rocks, soil, mountain and volcano.</li> </ul>

Which is your favourite dinosaur? Why?</li> <li>● Did all dinosaurs lay eggs? Can you draw or make a dinosaur egg?</li> <li>● Make a fact file about a chosen dinosaur: How did it move? What did it eat? Where did it live? What did it look like? What size was it? How heavy was it?</li> <li>● Find out what these words mean: Excavate, Extinct, Fossil, Paleontologist (well done if you can read that last word!)</li> </ul>

These are just a few ideas you might like to try.
